February 5th, 1919

Professor G. S. Brett,

University of Toronto.

Dear Professor Brett:

I had not thought that when Father Carr said that Dr. De Wulf would be willing to give a series of lectures this winter he had in mind any payment for the course, and I am afraid that this year it will be very difficult for me to secure money for that purpose. My impression was that the lectures were in the nature of an introduction to the University. If you feel diffident in asking him in these circumstances I would write to Father Carr myself and explain matters to him.

Yours sincerely,

President.